2017-2018 Noncustodial Parent Waiver Petition

Yale policy requires financial information from both natural parents to determine a student's financial aid award. By completing this form, you are petitioning that an exception be made to the requirement of financial information from your noncustodial parent. You can complete this form if your parents' divorce is over five years old and you have minimal or no contact with your noncustodial parent. If you believe that you have other exceptional circumstances that warrant consideration of a waiver, you should explain them by completing this petition.

Attach a separate statement from a third party (other than an attorney) that verifies the amount of contact that you have with your noncustodial parent. Typically, these letters come from counselors, ministers, and other professionals close to a student's situation. The person writing the statement must include his/her name, address, phone number, and relationship to the student. Letters from family members are not acceptable.

Are there any legal orders that limit your noncustodial parent's contact with you? YES NO
 If yes, please attach documentation (i.e. restraining order, police report, or divorce decree).

Provide any additional information that would help us to better understand the circumstances that you believe make it appropriate for us not to require any financial information or contribution from your noncustodial parent. Be sure to provide as much detail as possible and attach additional pages if necessary. You should also attach any applicable documentation to substantiate or expand upon your situation. Examples of required documentation include court rulings and letters from third parties (other than attorneys or other family members). Third-party letters typically come from counselors, ministers, or other professionals close to the situation. Be sure that the person writing the statement includes his/her name, address, phone number, and relationship to you (the student). Letters from other family members are useful only if they provide new information.
